

Isabel Marx

+569 3424 6722

|

imarxv@gmail.com

|

GitHub Link

Description

Specializing in the AI field, Isabel is currently in the last year of her Electrical Engineering studies. She'll be applying to FCFM's Data Science Major, in hopes of starting work for community and social development soon. She has a passion for acquiring new knowledge and relies on her creativity to innovate.

Education

University of Chile Electrical Civil Engineering	2016 – Presente
University of Chile Standard Engineering Program	2014 – 2016

Work Experience

Intern Cenia – Artificial Intelligence National Center <ul style="list-style-type: none">Developer for the Transport Subsecretary's Public Challenges Project.	January – , 2023 Santiago, Chile
Intern Dronesperhour <ul style="list-style-type: none">Audiovisual Media Editor for publicity, marketing and Drone School material.Adobe Photoshop y Adobe Premiere Pro development.	September – December, 2018 Berlin, Germany

Skills and knowledge

Languages: Spanish (native), English(advanced)
Programming Languages: Python (advanced), SQL (intermediate)
Software: MATLAB (advanced), SAS (intermediate), PLECS (basic), MS Excel (intermediate), MS Word (intermediate)
Elective Courses: Artificial Intelligence, Deep Learning, Voice Processing, Data Bases

Extracurricular Activities

Volunteer Niñas Pro <ul style="list-style-type: none">Programming Educator for girls ages 10 to 18.	March, 2023 – Present Santiago, Chile
Activist Anonymous for the Voiceless and Beauchef Antiespecista <ul style="list-style-type: none">Animal Rights Activism	November, 2017 – December, 2022 Santiago, Chile

Other interests

Sustainability CEPC: event organizer for Standard Engineering Program Student Center
Engineering Film Group: member, manager